

PRESS RELEASE

Amsterdam, 27th February 2019

GOOD&MOJO - sustainable lighting with a good cause

The Kalimantan serie, named after the Indonesian island, is a beautiful combination of black & natural bamboo sustainable lights. You can choose from different types of pendants with one, three or seven shades, from small to voluminous. The Kalimantan wall lamps are two handmade masterpieces which will decorate your walls while providing a beautiful, cosy light.

Introducing new sustainable materials, GOOD&MOJO presents a new model named Iguazu after the majestic Brazilian waterfalls. Available in two sizes, this hanging lamp is made of jute: a natural, strong fiber made from the plant Corchorus, which relies mainly on rainwater and reaches maturity within 4-6 months.

The Komodo is a perfect match for someone looking for an attractive, lightweight bamboo lamp. This rectangle hanging lamp will provide a significant amount of light as it has not one but three light fixtures! Named after the Indonesian island with Komodo dragons, this model is available in three colors: naturel, black and white.

Discover the complete collection: nothing less than 50 new lamps that will make you travel from your own home!

Buy Light Give Light: For every lamp sold, GOOD&MOJO donate to the WakaWaka foundation.

Up to this day, more than 3000 solar lights have been given to people in crisis situations in off-grid areas throughout the world.

For high-res images: Ask your logins to our photodatabase at hello@goodandmojo.nl.

